Billiard Congress of America Membership Approves Bylaw Revisions Headquarters Office Space Reduced

Broomfield, Colo. - March 8, 2011 - The Billiard Congress of America today announced its membership has voted to approve several bylaw revisions that were recently recommended by the Billiard Congress of America Board of Directors. The new bylaws, which immediately go into effect, can be viewed at bca-pool.com. The association also announced that it has reduced its headquarters office space more than 25 percent by moving to a smaller suite at its current location.

"The most significant revisions to the bylaws involve a reduction in the overall number of Billiard Congress of America Board of Directors from 16 to nine and further clarifying the categories of Billiard Congress of America membership to make it easier for our members to determine in which category they belong," said Ivan Lee, Billiard Congress of America Board Chairman. "Reducing our board size will help us with continuing our goal of reducing overall operating expenses. The Board also approved a recommendation by the headquarters staff to reduce our office space as additional means of cutting overall operating cost."

The association's new address is:

12303 Airport Way, Suite 140
